ONE CENT

JURY OUT LONG
IN ROUPE CASECharge to Jury Made at 4:30
O'clock Wednesday—
Return Delayed

CASE SENSATIONAL ONE

Excitement reigned intense about the county court house at Washington today where the verdict of the jury sitting in the murder case of Mrs. Lillian Roupe, charged with shooting her husband to death was awaited. The jury was out all night and up until noon today had not returned a verdict.

The fate of Mrs. Roupe was placed in the keeping of the jury at 4:30 o'clock Wednesday evening after all testimony had been taken and after attorneys had made their addresses and Judge J. A. McIlvaine given his charge to the jury.

The case is one of the most sensational of years in criminal court annals. Mrs. Roupe maintains strongly that her husband came home intoxicated on the night of December 31 last, the night on which the shooting occurred. He tried to make her dance she testified, at the point of a revolver and she seized the weapon. In the struggle the gun went off and he was mortally wounded. In the hospital a little later Roupe declaring himself to be in his proper senses formally accused his wife of causing his death, making a death-bed statement. Numbering which has lasted a good part of his week. Toward the last of the trial Mrs. Roupe showed plainly the effects of the strain, though in the earlier part of the week she bore up well. Today under the suspense of waiting the verdict of the jury she nearly gave way.

"NOF CED", SAYS BUCHANAN
ABOUT EDDIE HAZEL CASE

To the Editor of Charleroi Mail:
Three parties from Monongahela representing Eddie Hazel came to me Thursday evening May 18th and asked me to use Hazel in a bout here in our next show. I told them I would and everything was O. K. until I signed up Young Manfredo of Pittsburgh to meet him. Manfredo knocked Hazel out in four rounds in Pittsburgh recently. Nuf Ced.

CALIFORNIA WOMAN VALUES
HER AFFECTIONS AT $5,000

Zeny Krobcek of the California section, values her affections at $5,000. This is the sum she asks of Frank Markovich for his alleged breach of promise. She avers that on January 1, 1915, he promised to marry her and she has been ready and willing to carry out the contract. Notwithstanding the promise of the defendant she avers he was in January 15, 1915, a short time after his promise to marry her, married to another woman.

HIRING OF OWENS AS AN INSPECTOR IS CONFIRMED

Members of Council Confer in Regard To Details of Grading and Paving Work in The Borough

Confirmation of the instructions which had gone forth to employ Thomas Owens as inspector of grading and paving work being done in Charleroi was made at a conference of councilmen at the borough building Wednesday evening. Also explanation was made by Contractor Cornish of the firm of Brooks & Cornish of work that had been worrying some. It appears that some of the members of council even did not understand some of the technical details.

Long alley had been the point of objections, but the council satisfied the members of council that he was living up to his word. Council decided that a wall should be erected on Fifth street where a deep cut has been necessary.

The work of grading and paving the borough within a few days. Borough Engineer T. J. Allen generally is supervising the work.

BUSY DAYS AHEAD
AT ELDORA PARK

Charleroi Schools' Picnic to be Big Feature of Coming Monday

TO OBSERVE MEMORIAL DAY

With the season well opened, some big dates are ahead at Eldora park. Next Monday the Charleroi school picnic will be held. Then on Tuesday the usual Memorial Day events will be celebrated.

The Charleroi school picnic is an annual affair as is the Monongahela school picnic which was held last Tuesday. Plans for it will be much the same as usual in connection with a school outing. Children will be transported to the park on special cars and upon their arrival there will be given an opportunity to enjoy the amusement privileges.

Memorial day will be fashioned into an old fashioned public picnic, following a custom which has proved attractive in previous years. Dancing will be a feature afternoon and evening and arrangements will be made for caring for one of the monster crowds of the season.

No outings have been booked for Wednesday following Memorial day and the park will then be put in the best of shape for the outing the next day which will be held by the Monessen schools, providing agreeable transportation arrangements can be put through. Friday may be devoted to a picnic of the Roscoe schools.

On the coming Sunday, afternoon and evening concerts will be given and crowds are anticipated. Last Sunday's concert by the Louhi band of Monessen proved entertaining features and drew well.

FINE IMPOSED ON PRICEDALE MAN

Is Charged With Operating
Jitney Bus Without Borough License

DRIVERS OBEY INSTRUCTIONS

Appearing before the burgess to answer to the charge of operating a jitney bus without a borough license K. W. Alfihan of Pricedale Wednesday evening was fined $5 and costs. This was virtually the first violator brought before the burgess since the strict traffic law enforcement began this week. Alfihan was warned against the repetition of a similar offense.

A Latrobe driver, Mama Brant has not yet responded to a summons issued for driving past a Fallowfield avenue street car, which was loading passengers. If there is no response within a few days the owner of the car will be sent for on information.

Numerous drivers have been instructed against leaving their cars standing on the streets faced the wrong way and there has been a disposition shown thus far to obey the injunction.

There has been a strict enforcement of the crossing rules at the corner of Fifth street and McKean avenue and as a result many an unwary driver has been compelled to stop his machine, back carefully and make the turn in accordance with orders.

GRUESOME FIND
MADE BY GIRLS

Body of Unknown Discovered in the Bushes Near
Baird Station

NO CLUE TO MAN'S IDENTITY

Mystery is attached to the finding of the decomposed body of an unknown man not far from the Baird Station tower about a mile south of Donora Wednesday afternoon about 2 o'clock. The body was taken in charge by Deputy Coroner James A. Rabe of Donora and buried without identification being reached.

The body was discovered by two girls who were picking flowers near Baird station. Upon their gruesome discovery they caused Deputy Coroner Rabe to be notified and he went for the body. From the man's face it was impossible to tell anything. There was nothing in his clothing to indicate his identity. From the condition of the body the man had been dead from six to eight months. The man had on a dark suit, a gray sweater coat, a gray overcoat and a gray soft hat.

MOON GIRL ACT PLAYING
RETURN AT THE PALACE

An act that proved a sensation on a previous appearance here a few weeks ago is being featured at the Palace theatre the last three days of this week in The Moon Girl and the Mermaid company. Miss Julia Wynn is the Moon girl and she goes floating over her audiences singing songs. The act is mystifying and sensational. In addition to the Moon girl act Manager Barnhart has other attractive features included in his high class vaudeville and motion picture program.

MUCH INTEREST IN THE COMING OF DEAN CHAMBERS

Popular University of Pittsburgh
Speaker to Make Address Tonight
At Commercial Exercises.

Much interest is being manifested in the coming tonight of Dean W. G. Chambers of the school of education, University of Pittsburgh, to make the address at the commercial department exercises at night school. Dean Chambers is known as one of the best speakers of the Pittsburgh institution and is a man highly regarded in educational circles of the western end of the state.

In addition to the address by Dean Chambers an interesting program will be carried out. Music will be a feature. The high school orchestra and mandolin club will play and musical numbers will be contributed by the Misses Dessie Blaker and Olivia Connelly, Miss Mary Thomas. Essays will be handled by Miss Jessie Forsythe and Miss Marie Ewing and the presentation of certificates will be by H. J. Booth a member of the school board.

Both the exercises tonight and the commencement tomorrow will be free.

MONESSEN NAMED FOR CONVENTION

Christian Church Delegates
Take Up Official Business at Meeting

PROGRAM IS CARRIED OUT

Officers were elected and Monessen selected as the next meeting place of the business session this morning of the district convention of the Western Pennsylvania Christian Missionary society and Christian Women's Board of Missions. Officers elected were: President, Rev. E. N. Dury, Charleroi; vice president, J. B. Luce, Monessen; secretary, Rev. B. C. Hibler, Belle Vernon. The next convention will be held at about this time of year in 1917.

Among the business taken up this morning was that of the adoption of resolutions. They pertained largely to denominational activities. One urged the state convention to have the church year of Western Pennsylvania Christian churches close June 30.

The program was carried out as outlined Wednesday afternoon and evening. Rev. B. C. Hibler of Belle Vernon and Rev. J. B. Swain of Monessen were afternoon speakers. Rev. Percy Davis of Monongahela conducted devotions and a symposium, "Making Good in the Local Church" was taken up. Discussing this theme, Rev. B. C. Hibler of Belle Vernon spoke of "Plans," Rev. J. B. Swain of Monessen of "The Preacher," Rev. A. C. Young of Pittsburgh "Problems" and Rev. Robert A. Honn of California of "Extension." A general discussion followed.

This afternoon the Women's Mission Board is holding a session. Miss Elsie Taylor of Pittsburgh and Mrs. T. W. Phillips of New Castle state workers are present.

HERRON LEADS BY OFFICIAL COUNT

With J. Rankin Martin Will Represent 24th District at Convention

GETS BIG VOTE IN COUNTY

The Republicans of the 24th Congressional district, comprising the counties of Washington, Beaver and Lawrence will be represented in the national convention at Chicago, the week of June 7, by Joseph A. Herron, of Monongahela and Attorney J. Rankin Martin of Beaver Falls. Both these candidates ran as "unpledged and uninstructed" delegates.

The official vote which has been completed in all three counties shows that Mr. Herron defeated James H. Cunningham, of Beaver, running on the Brumbaugh ticket by 61 votes. Mr. Herron's total vote in the district is 5,957 and that of Mr. Cunningham 5,896. Mr. Martin received the highest vote of any of the three candidates, receiving a total of 6,488. E. L. Phillips, of New Castle was fourth with 4,760 and Mr. Spells of Washington, fifth with 1,652.

Mr. Cunningham, the most consistent vote getter, running a close second in his own county a close second in Lawrence county and third in Washington county. Mr. Herron polled a comparatively light vote in both of the other counties of the district, being fourth man in these counties and receiving but 2,147 votes out of his total of 5,957. It was the large vote of 3,810 in his home county which landed him a winner over Mr. Cunningham. Martin, the leading candidate was second in this county, first in his own county, and ran third in Lawrence county. The vote for Mr. Spells in Washington county was surprisingly large, he receiving 46 more votes than Mr. Phillips.

The alternates to the Republican national convention are Attorney C. L. V. Acheson of Washington and R. R. Brown of Ellwood City, Lawrence county. Mr. Acheson led the list with 5,926 votes and Brown was second with 5,917. Dickey of New Castle was a very poor third with 5,316. Mr. Andrews of New Castle was fourth with 5,488. Mr. Acheson ran as an instructed delegate on the Brumbaugh ticket and Brown ran uninstructed. Both Acheson and Brown were supporters of Roosevelt four years ago.

The official vote for the delegates and alternates in each of the three counties and total in district, follows:

24th District (Official)
	Wash.	Beav.	Law.	Total
Cunningham	1622	2411	1863	5896

NEWS FROM THE FARM CLUBS

Kansas Mothers and Daughters Can Much Home-Grown Product—Wyoming Boy Raises Potatoes.

A Kansas mother-daughter canning club, consisting of 11 mothers and 11 daughters, canned 2,000 quarts of home-grown products last season, according to a report from the state agent.

A Wyoming club boy is reported to have produced 70 bushels of potatoes on one-half acre. He made a net profit of $80.65, and also earned the state championship.

The champion potato-club boy of Montana is reported to have produced 65 bushels of potatoes on his one-half-acre plot, at a cost of $15.63. His net profit was $47.27.

Several fruit growers stated at a recent Minnesota horticultural society's meeting that they were able to get top prices for fruit sold through commission men. Inquiry showed that these men have established a reputation for good packing and good fruit, and the commission men are anxious to get their fruit.

Peanuts Served Free With Meals.
Down in the jewelry section of Maiden Lane, New York, there is a restaurant where peanuts are piled high in dishes on every table.

So far as is known this is the only establishment to maintain help-yourself dishes for which no charge is made.

Among the patrons nearly all dip into the peanut dish about pie time, but the number of peanuts eaten in a day is not great.

The manager says he has always believed that there should be something served in a restaurant with the compliments of the house.

Like the late George Francis Train, he maintains that peanuts are good for digestion.

COUNSEL FOR McPHERSON FILE MOTION ASKING FOR NEW TRIAL

Maintained That Verdict in Monongahela Manslaughter Case Was Not In Accord With the Evidence

Counsel for Samuel McPherson of Monongahela, convicted late Saturday night of manslaughter for the killing of Wallace J. Hilton at Monongahela on August 18, 1915 Wednesday afternoon filed a motion for a new trial. That was the last day on which to file such a motion. The case was ordered on the next argument list and that means McPherson will not be called for sentence until some further disposition of the case, provided a new trial is not granted. The reasons set forth in the motion is that the verdict is against the evidence and against the weight of the evidence. Leave is given to file additional reasons later.

WILL SERVE A LOCKUP TERM IN INSTALLMENTS

Serving a lockup sentence by installments is the latest thing in punitive fashions in Fayette county. Justice of the Peace Henry O'Neil of Smithfield is the originator. William Morrison a night telegrapher for the Baltimore and Ohio railroad in Smithfield was arrested Sunday for speeding. He was given his choice between a $10 fine or 24 hours in the lockup. He chose the latter. Baltimore and Ohio officials could not get a man to fill Morrison's position on short notice and Justice O'Neil released the prisoner Monday evening in time to go to work on the promise that he would return Tuesday morning and complete his term. Morrison worked Monday night and returned to the lockup next morning. He was released last evening.

DON'T WANT POPULAR AIRS IN NATIONAL ANTHEM

An effort will be made by members of Camp Walter E. Brown, Veterans of Foreign Wars to have musicians play the "Star Spangled Banner" from start to finish without mixing popular airs. Soldiers and members of patriotic organizations point out that it is embarrassing when bands begin to play the national hymn and everybody stands and then the band switches to some ragtime number and the audience is required to remain standing. The patriotic orders of this vicinity have started a campaign for funds to erect a monument at Connelville to the memory of the soldiers who fell in the campaigns in Cuba the Philippines and the Boxer rebellion in China.

Announcement is being made of the coming of Billie Burke in a big feature production.

BRIOCHE IS SOMETHING NEW

Guests at Luncheon or Tea Will Be Sure to Appreciate This Delicacy, Properly Made.

One cake yeast, one-half cupful milk, scalded and cooled, two tablespoonfuls sugar, four cupfuls sifted flour, one cupful butter, eight eggs, one teaspoonful salt.

Dissolve yeast and one tablespoonful sugar in luke-warm milk. Add one cupful of flour to make sponge. Beat well. Cover and set to rise in warm place, free from draft, until light—about three-quarters of an hour.

To the rest of the flour add one tablespoonful sugar, butter softened, four eggs and salt. Beat all in well. Add sponge and beat again thoroughly; then the other four eggs, unbeaten, one at a time, beating thoroughly. Cover and let rise until light—about four hours, and beat again.

Chill in refrigerator overnight. In the morning, shape by rolling under hand into long strips about 27 inches long and three-fourths inch thick, bringing ends together, and twist like a rope. Form into rings, place on well-buttered pans to rise.

When double in size, glaze with white of egg diluted with water. Bake in a moderate oven fifteen minutes. Ice while hot, with plain frosting. Spread with almonds.

PICATO SUBSTITUTED FOR RAY IN SATURDAY SHOW

New Castle Fighter to Face Columbus Man—Good Preliminaries Booked by Charleroi Club.

A substitution has been made in the Charleroi Boxing Club's main bout of the show to be held at the Charleroi skating rink Saturday night in that Babe Picato of New Castle one of the best known battlers of the western end of the state will fight Bartling Joe Bailey of Columbus in Johnny Ray's place. Bailey is one of the most feared men in Ohio and Pennsylvania, and so is Picato. In fact both are among the best for the weight which averages about 135 pounds.

In addition to the Bailey-Picato argument preliminaries of a high class nature have been booked. The reason for Ray's absence from the ring Saturday is that he has to undergo an operation.

LABEL SUIT HEARD IN COMMON PLEAS COURT AT WASHINGTON

F. W. Foye, a contractor of Brownsville is the plaintiff and the Lilley Coal & Coke Co., and John H. Moffitt, secretary are defendants in a libel suit heard before Judge R. W. Irwin in common pleas court Wednesday. The action is a sequel to a former suit in which Mr. Foye sued the defendant coal company for extra expense incurred in sinking shafts for the defendant coal company near West Brownsville. In that suit Mr. Foye secured a verdict for $3,633.25.

The present suit is based on a letter written by the Lilley Coal & Coke Co., per John H. Moffitt, secretary to J. W. Devision of the Federal Coal & Coke Co., of Fayette county, relative to the ability of Mr. Foye as a contractor. In this letter, which is in evidence, Mr. Foye is charged with having due to "recklessness, carelessness and error," lost for the Lilley Coal & Coke Co. between $8,000 and $10,000. It is alleged that this letter was prompted by malicious spirit for the purpose of preventing the plaintiff from securing a contract from the Federal Coal & Coke Co., and that it was written from the fact that the Lilley Coal & Coke Co. was "smarting" under the verdict secured against it by Mr. Foye.

"THE LADIES' STORE"

THEN PARROT LAID AN EGG

Queen Paroxysms of Bire Cause Much Excitement and Hurred Call for Veterinarian.

Riverside, Cal.—The hurried administration of red pepper pills, under the orders of a veterinarian and the hurried application of hot flannel cloths, and other family remedies, all designed to save the life of Opal, the pet white parrot at the Mission Inn, occasioned great excitement among the patrons of that hostelry.

Frank A. Miller, master of the Inn, took personal care of the bird, which was found to be writhing in seeming paroxysms of pain and making the air vocal with squawks. After submitting to the sympathetic treatment of its friends for a time, the bird calmly laid an egg. Opal's first achievement along this line, although she is twenty years old.

$500 FOR AN OLD KINDNESS

Mrs. Albertson of Sedalia, Mo., Was Good to an Orphan and He Repays Her.

Sedalia, Mo.—Mrs. J. T. Albertson, wife of a Sedalia painter, has received a check for $500 from Daniel C. Jacklin of San Francisco, as a recognition of kindness extended to him years ago, when as an orphan he worked on the Albertson farm near here.

Jacklin was left penniless when his parents died, but he worked his way through the Warrensburg Normal school and the Rolla School of Mines. He then went West, and as a mining engineer has accumulated wealth.

His earnings run into the thousands yearly, and he receives large dividends from eighteen mining corporations in which he is a stockholder. He wants Mr. and Mrs. Albertson to join him on an eastern trip.

NEARLY 100, FIGHTS DEATH

Mrs. Liggett of Denver Thinks Faith Will Keep Her Alive at Least Century.

Denver.—Faith contends with death at the home of Mrs. Jane Liggett, and the physicians say faith's battle may be a winning one, at least until Mrs. Liggett passes her one hundredth year.

Mrs. Liggett believes in the power of prophecy, and it feeds the faith that she shall live to see the coming of the Messiah, a prediction made for some of those who lived in the time of "the falling stars," and witnessed the phenomenon. Mrs. Liggett will be one hundred May 13.

"It is not willed that all who saw the shower of stars will see the coming of the Messiah," said the little white-haired woman, "but I believe God has chosen me for one of the number."

Arrests His Own Son.

San Jose, Cal.—Because he believes the majesty of the law should be upheld, despite the anguish of seeing his son sent to the penitentiary, Town Marshal Butler of Mountain View arrested his son, Lloyd, on a charge of burglary and refused to use his influence to obtain probation for him.

The youth was sentenced to imprisonment in San Quentin for one year.

Reward for Honesty.

New Brunswick, N. J.—Miss Ethel A. Wood recently returned $200 to the education board for instruction she did not complete. News of her action reached her cousin, William B. French, in Los Angeles. He has just died leaving her $75,000 as a reward for her honesty.

Girl Babies Superior.

Lafayette, Ind.—Girl babies proved superior to the boy babies in Lafayette's first baby show. The girls won all the first prizes in the various classes. Boy babies took two second and two third prizes.

Cement Shot From Gun.

In order to waterproof the upstream face of the Elephant Butte dam of the United States reclamation service in New Mexico, a wooden raft was launched in the water of the reservoir formed by the structure and from it a mixture of cement, sand and water was shot on the face of the dam by means of a gun operated by compressed air. The coating was applied in horizontal strips about ten feet high and the length of the dam at water level. The mortar waterproofing coating was applied in four layers each about one-fourth of an inch thick. Numerous samples taken from the face of the dam showed perfect adhesion of the waterproofing coat to the original concrete.—Engineering Record.

BANISH GLOOM IN SUNSHINE

Nothing Like Plenty of Good Daylight to Drive Away Sickness and the "Blues."

If everyone could only realize the tonic effect of a little sunshine we would be both healthier and happier.

Cover some green grass with a piece of carpet for a month, and note the result. The grass will have completely changed. It will have lost its color and become almost white. This is exactly what happens to people. If you live in dark, gloomy rooms you cannot be happy or cheerful. Healthy.

Not only does lack of sunshine impair your health, but it affects your mental attitude. You cannot be an optimist and live in a gloomy place, and who wants to be a pessimist?

Many of the most dreaded germs are completely annihilated by a continued application of sunshine. This is the reason all modern hospitals are built on the pavilion plan, which admits light on all sides.

Disease germs are not the only variety that dread the light.

The germs that breed discontent, pettiness, jealousy and real unhappiness are all bred in darkness.

Did you ever try a brisk walk in the bright sunshine when you seem to be completely surrounded by all sorts of "glooms"? It is a simple remedy; not a costly one, but efficacious. One hour of such treatment will usually "out a whole regiment of these pests."

If you haven't the energy for a walk, put on wraps to keep you warm and sit in an easy chair in the corner of the porch. In lieu of the porch try raising a southern window and sit where the sun will shine on you. If your gloom has not vanished in an hour, you should consult a doctor who doubtless will prescribe for a sluggish liver, for a sick liver will make even rosy glasses reflect a dark glow.

Expensive Repairs.

In order to stimulate his trade, the village blacksmith hung out a sign that read, "Whatever It Is, I Can Repair It." On the morning of April fools' day, the town was elbowed his way through the usual crowd that was collected round the door, and handed the blacksmith the parts of a broken lamp chimney.

"I'd like you to put this together for me as soon as you can, John," he said, winking toward the crowd.

The smith took the ragged bits of glass, examined them carefully while the idlers looked on with considerable amusement. Then he went into the room in the rear of the shop. Stepping across the alley to the grocery store, which was out of sight of the crowd, he bought a ten-cent lamp chimney exactly like the broken one. How everyone laughed when he stepped out of his little room a moment later and put the whole chimney into the astonished wag's hands with the dry remark:

"I'll have to charge half a dollar for that job."

What He Would Do.

There is an Irish priest in the province of Quebec who deserves to be popular. He is a fellow well met with everyone in the village, asks for contributions, and gets liberal ones, from Protestants and Catholics alike. One day a delegation of Baptists called on him—men who had frequently contributed to Father W's church—told him they were going to erect a new Baptist church, as the old one was too small, and asked him to subscribe to the fund.

"Well, boys," he said, after a slight hesitation, "you know my religion forbids my doing that, but I will give you fifty dollars to help tear the old church down."

Her Potato Glasses.

There's more than one way to handle the cooking problem, as one good housewife has studied out to her own satisfaction. Her eyesight is not as good as once it was, hence she is the possessor of two pairs of glasses. The other day she was engaged in cooking and she was using the spectacles that she customarily wears about the house. Then as she turned to do something else she was seen to take off her glasses, go into the other room and get the other pair, with the remark:

"I need this pair to work on these potatoes."—Brookton Enterprise.

TRIBUTE TO COLLEGE MEN.

One of the finest recent tributes to the American college is to be found in an article written by an expert in salesmanship who has 160 men working under his direction. His theory is that "the most vital thing to a man is himself." Hence he wants as salesmen men who think most of their own success as sellers, and who will believe, with him, that "the primeval self is the controlling factor in most men."

Consequently, he says, he never employs college graduates. Why? Because, he explains, "the refined man is too apt to think of others, too liable to have had a big proportion of the selfishness worked out of him. For this reason I never look to college graduates." Nevertheless, there are college bred salesmen who have risen above the "primeval self" and who manage to get orders by thinking of buyers' rights as well as sellers' profits. — Christian Science Monitor.

PREFERRED LIFE IN JAIL

Chief of Police Found Himself Unable to Get Rid of Guests He Did Not Want.

George Fitch, the Illinois humorist, had his own ideas about prison reform schemes. He expressed his attitude one day while discussing Thomas Mott Osborne's humanitarian efforts.

"Osborne's ideas may work out all right," said Fitch, "but whenever I hear of a warden holding surprise parties and rainbow teas in his penitentiary I think of what happened when Tim Cullinan was chief of police in Junction City, Kan."

"Tim, in fact, was the whole police force. He had eleven prisoners on his hands, and was anxious to get rid of them, for they were a heavy responsibility, Tim having to keep watch over the actions of all Junction City."

"When you feed the critters," he said to the jailer one day, "just accidentally leave the door open and get out of sight for awhile."

"But times were hard and picking up a living outside wasn't so easy. Tim hadn't figured on that, but he did when he came back that evening and found the eleven prisoners still there and seven more who had slipped in while the jailer wasn't looking. Living was better and cheaper inside the jail than outside."

Miles Standish Tale "Myth."

One by one the good old tales that cheered childhood's happy hours are being taken away from us. First comes Sidney George Fisher and declares the Washington hatchet and cherry tree tradition an "exploded myth." Now comes Rev. Paul Sturtevant Howe, rector of the Church of the Advocate, Cape May, and declares that Miles Standish never sent John Alden to woo Priscilla Mullen.

Doctor Howe told the members of the Mayflower society at their annual banquet that he knew there was no foundation for Longfellow's famous poem because he himself was a descendant of John and Priscilla. John Alden "spoke for himself" all the time, said Doctor Howe, and Miles Standish barely knew Priscilla.

NIGHT OF HORROR IN THE TRENCHES

Vivid Description of His Experience Penned by a French Lieutenant.

MEN'S NERVES SHATTERED

Quiet of Day Is Broken by Terrific Bombardment That Makes the Earth Rock Like Ship in a Storm.

Paris.—The Paris Journal prints a most graphic account written by a French lieutenant, in simple but vivid language, of his experience during a heavy bombardment of the French lines recently by the Germans:

"The day was quiet," writes this officer.

"Towards evening we received a bombardment of the first, which subsided; a few sandbags. Then everything was quiet again."

"At nine o'clock I went below to my dugout for something to eat. Our little table was already set, and the steaming coffee was just placed before me when suddenly there was an explosion that shook the earth beneath our feet and scattered pieces of rock and clay in our midst."

"It's no use," said one of the men. "I see we are not going to be permitted to eat."

"I climbed back into the trench, and not a sound was heard."

"Where was the explosion?"

"To the right," answered a voice in the dark. "Be careful; they are sending us those 150-millimeter shells. There's one coming now."

"I crouched down against the wall and in a twinkling fifty meters of the trench were ground to dust. Sparks flew and dark, gaseous fumes eclipsed the blackness of the night. Then came another shell on its murderous mission, tearing up the earth and accompanied by deafening thunder."

"Things began to look serious. Someone shouted:

"Lieutenant, there is no sense in your standing there and risking your life."

"The man was right. I returned to the dugout. The bombardment continued like one continuous roll of thunder. A heavy rock, loosened by the detonations, fell at my feet."

"And yet we hear," says one of my men, "that they are short of ammunition."

"I was getting tired of this. We had to answer those fellows. I asked the telephone operator to connect me with the commander."

"There is no answer," said the operator. "The wire has probably been shot away."

"I scribbled something on a piece of paper and handed it to one of my young men."

"The telephone is disconnected, my friend. See that you get this to the commander. Have a little brandy?"

"If you please."

"He smiled, saluted and was off. Fifty meters off he fell with a shot in his neck."

"The bombardment grew more intense. Oh, what a night! Our trenches seemed to sway to and fro, like the deck of a ship in a storm. The air was full of sulphur fumes and breathing became difficult. Death surrounded us. I wondered how many of my men were still alive! And would we be able to withstand the foe if he made a charge on our trenches? I nerved myself to remain calm. How I would have liked to lay down and sleep! Strange, that the roaring of shells through the air always produces drowsiness. I fought against this weakness. Courage returned when the bombardment seemed to slacken for a moment. However, we only deluded ourselves, for the shells were coming faster and faster and thicker and thicker. I tried to figure out the caliber of the shells, but was unable to think. Every man was hugging the wall of the trench. If we could only sleep and not wake up again, so as to be out of this hell!"

"Be careful, my friends. Now that the bombardment has ceased we can expect the enemy. A few of the men arose with an effort. They looked at me bewildered and did not seem to understand. Their faces were the color of the earth."

"Ah, what was that? A few meters off, at the entrance of the trench, I saw soldiers like so many ants digging in the earth. They had thrown their guns aside and their only aim now was to save their comrades, who were buried under the earth by the collapse of the walls of the trench. I saw Lieutenant Baudies there giving orders."

"Eight poor fellows are lying under there for almost two hours now," he shouts. "Only by a miracle was I saved from being there too. It seems impossible for us to reach the men. What a terrible night this has been!"

"And with a sort of tired laugh, he added:

"And to think that such an awful experience as this has been is never even mentioned in the reports."

Juvenile Police Disrupted.

New York.—The juvenile police force in the Brooklyn district of Brooklyn was badly disrupted when three of its staunchest members were sent to a reform school for stealing lead pipe.
